

PRISMA ELECTRONICS SA is an innovative, high technology company that was established in 1991 in, Greece. Throughout a consistent and continuous effort, the company engaged in a wide range of activities in the field of Electronics, Space, Defense, Information Technology, Telecommunications and Energy. With present in Alexandroupolis (HQ and Factory), Athens (R&D and Sales Department) and London (International Sales).

The company is looking for an Electrical/ Electronic Engineer to staff the Defense and Space Sector in Alexandroupoli's Foundation.

Electrical/ Electronic Engineer- Defense and Space Sector (Job code: EE-2500)

Job description:

- Responsible for analysis and adherence to production processes in electronics and wiring assembly
- Analyse and evaluate the company's production and quality processes
- Identifying and solving performance problems in the production process
- Preparing, drafting, and monitoring proposals in the Defence and Space Sector
- Maintaining deliverables and keeping customers informed of the progress of projects (Defense & Space)
- Responsible for problem identification, mitigation and resolution
- Preparation and support of production equipment

Essential qualifications:

- Degree/Diploma in Electrical/Electronic Engineering or related field
- Very good knowledge of English (oral/written)

- Very good computer skills
- Communication skills and a willingness to learn, work in a team and develop.
- For men, fulfilment of military obligations is essential

Qualifications that will be considered

- Experience in a similar role will be highly valued
- Organizational skills/quick thinking and methodical approach
- Willingness to work and serve to solve problems
- Ability to work under pressure and meet deadlines
- Understanding of the design and manufacturing process of electronics, wiring and controls
- Involvement with electronics and harness manufacturing

Additional Requirements:

- Experience in electronics and cables assembly

What we offer:

- Competitive remuneration package
- High standard working environment
- Opportunity to work with international companies and executives
- Ongoing training
- Opportunities for career development

Please send your CV to address mail: ibd@prismael.com by referring the relevant Ref Code (ex. EE-2500).

